Map of Europe during the Middle Ages

You will be completing a map of Europe during the Middle Ages. There are several steps in this process. Please follow the directions carefully. You will need an atlas, a pencil, pencil crayons and a fine-tip black ink pen.

STEP ONE: Rivers, Seas and Oceans of Europe.

Using an atlas, find and label the following on your blank Map 1:

Atlantic Ocean	Loire River	Danube River
North Sea	Rhone River	Vistula River
Baltic Sea	Saone River	Dniester River
Mediterranean Sea	Seine River	Tagus River
Black Sea	Thames River	Dnieper River
Red Sea	Meuse River	Po River
Ebro River	Rhine River	Nile River
Garonne River	Elbe River

Colour all oceans, seas and rivers BLUE. Colour all land areas GREEN.

STEP TWO: Cities of Europe during the Middle Ages.

Adrianople (Edirne)	Lyon	Milan
Constantinople (Istanbul)	London	Madrid
Rome	Florence	Lisbon
Paris	Naples	Prague
Budapest

STEP THREE: Map Questions.

On a separate piece of paper, answer the following questions:

1. Which ocean washes the shores of Western Europe?
2. What is the longest river shown on your map?
3. What is the large sea that separates Europe from Africa?
4. Why do you think river, seas and oceans were important to people of the Middle Ages?
5. Name two cities on the Black Sea.
6. Name six cities on the Mediterranean Sea.
7. Name four cities on the Danube River.
8. Name four cities near the Po River.
9. Name three cities on the Rhine River.
10. Using this map, identify five cities that are large and famous today.
11. List three cities on your map that you have never heard of before.
