

Travelogue

Imagine that you travel to a faraway undiscovered distant land. (outer-space, at the bottom of ocean, at the centre of earth)

Write a descriptive travel tale of your own.
(1 page double spaced)

Include events, places or beings that will fascinate, frighten, shock or scandalize your reader. (use many adjectives)

Remember an introductory sentence, sentences to provide details and a concluding sentence.

Reflect some concerns of modern day Canadian society.

Fear of change and damage to the environment

Concern of disappearing natural resources

Worries over the inequality of the distribution of wealth

Power – Who controls the government?

Who runs the most powerful businesses?

Is the United States still the dominant power?

- What are all the outrageous claims in travelogue?
- What do the claims have to do with religion?
- What does this tell you about the concerns of medieval people?
